

Healing Hearts • Restoring Relationships • Liberating Lives

We care.

We are motivated by a love for people and a desire to bring healing to hurting lives. We seek to genuinely and carefully enter into a person's world as we search the deep waters of the heart and the delicate roots of the problems that people face. It is our sincere desire to embrace people where they are, and walk beside them as they pursue peace with God, within themselves, and in their significant relationships.

We care.

That can sound trite; yet because I and my co-workers have significantly and personally experienced God's healing love, presence and grace in the midst of our own brokenness and struggles, we truly care and desire to serve the people God brings into our lives. I think of Paul writing in 2 Corinthians 1:3, 4

Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have received from God.

I remember a time when I sought professional counseling help during a crisis in my life; I was welcomed and invited to grieve even as I began to “wrestle” with change and growth. I was given a safe space to be honest and “messy.” I was given grace.

We at Wellspring are “learning and growing” persons in Christ; because of this understanding, we know that we serve people... not just problems. We care to be gracious with you and not judgmental. We care to be with you, and not just “fix” you.

Comfort and gracious challenge to grieve and grow... we at Wellspring care.

Carol Gasser, LPC, Staff Counselor
Wellspring Christian Counseling

Meet the Counselor:

Carol Gasser is a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) in the state of Missouri. She earned her Master of Arts in Counseling (MAC) from Covenant Theological Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri. She completed her internship at Wellspring Christian Counseling and joined the staff in 2002.

Carol is a member of the American Association of Christian Counselors (AACC). She has professional experience working in the areas of conflicted marriages, recovering from infidelity, spiritual struggles, post-abortion and teens. Carol specializes in domestic violence/controlling/codependent relationships and survivors of childhood sexual abuse. Carol leads a support group for women affected by domestic violence and/or controlling relationships at her home church, Harvester Christian. She is a speaker/trainer for local women's groups, St. Louis Christian College classes and area churches on a variety of topics including: depression, conflict resolution and forgiveness, adolescence, boundaries, and domestic violence. Carol is a Governor-appointed member of the Missouri Child Abuse and Neglect Review Board.

Carol has been married to her husband, Richard, for 25 years and they have two sons. She loves to quilt and still meets with her “playgroup” mom friends of twenty years.